Hello.

I am a Pratt alumni, professor and former owner of a firm here in Brooklyn (as of recently). I'm an experienced (15+ years) veteran of the design field that's looking to join a great team of creative, fun folks that can push my imagination, creativity, and sense of humor.

I understand Web, Print, and Motion Design, I understand teaching that knowledge and empowering others to get the best work out them while having a good time doing it. Trust me, I am not a stiff.

I am tired of running a business (5+ years) and want to get back to designing with a great group of people and leave the business to business-folk. I am good with creatives and clients alike and have a deep understanding of the realities of commerce with the implications that it has on a creative minded business.

If my vibe, qualifications, and track record is of any interest I would love to meet with you.

Best Wishes,
 David
